Class History

By Robert Rowe

Our history starts in the fall of 1919. It was then that the "charter members" of our class, twenty-two in number, started their schooling under the guidance of "Miss Ella" Canavan.

For three years we studied and played in the old Lincoln building, which stood where our high school building now stands.

We were then advanced to the Garfield building. Here we continued to absorb knowledge for four more years. We gained not only in learning during this time but also in numbers. At the end of the eighth grade, our role of members had swelled to forty-nine.

There is one regret we must voice for these early years of our schooling. We had neither Mrs. Wright nor Miss Wheatly to teach us. We missed them both by only a semester. It was a great loss to us to have missed the fine guidance which these two teachers have given to so many Medina pupils.

We entered high school in 1927. Our class now numbered sixty-six.

Our junior year was saddened by the untimely death of our friend and teacher, Beatrice Houston. In losing her we lost not only an excellent but a loyal friend to everyone who was fortunate enough to have known her.

As we became seniors we became more serious. We began to realize that the time was approaching when we must strike out for ourselves.

In graduating we must part. But in parting, the history of our class is only beginning. We are facing a new world, a world governed by science in which great things are to be done, and we intend to have a part in them.

Try, Trust and Triumph

This modern age of ours is one which may best be called an age of Experimentation and Progress. If we were to select a slogan, one which would include those qualities most necessary to each individual who lives in this age, the slogan, "Try, Trust and Triumph" would be a very apt one. We can easily see that these three words play a most important part in the lives of each one of us, from the very beginning. Even a tiny baby, in learning to walk, must first try before it can take one step; after that first step it must trust itself to take another, and another, until the triumph of walking results.

This act of trying means that one must have a definite goal in mind—one must have something to try for. The baby makes its first attempt because it wishes to reach its mother's outstretched arms—when this baby becomes a pupil, in school, it continues to try, because it wishes to pass from grade to grade—when it becomes a man it continues it's attempts in the world of business, because it wishes to rise higher and higher.

There have been definite goals in the minds of all famous men, (who have attempted anything.) Edison, in his first unsuccessful struggles with electricity, had, as his aim, the production of the electric light bulb. Admiral Byrd, in his many "trys" at aviation, had, as his aim, the exploration of unknown regions. While we cannot all have such magnificent goals, in mind, we do all have some goal, no matter how small, toward which we are striving. If this were not so we would not be here, tonight.

The act of trying not only necessitates that we have a definite goal in mind, but also that we strive toward that goal with a feeling of trust. Trust means trust inself, or self-reliance, as well as trust in God. Our entire lives are based on trust, of some kind. If we did not have trust in ourselves we could not undertake even the simplest tasks, from day to day. You women could not carry out the daily routine of your housework—you men could not carry on your various occupations. Practically every human act that one could mention is based upon one's trust and reliance in oneself.

There are many famous names that I could mention, to illustrate this truth. All the innumerable attempts in the field of aviation, made by Colonel Lindberg, would have been in vain, had he not possessed complete trust in his own mental, spiritual and physical powers. Sir Herbert Wilkins, would never dare attempt the hazardous trip to the North Pole, which he is planning, if he lacked confidence in himself. And self trust alone is not enough! Admiral Byrd not only needed self-trust, to make his Polar expedition worthwhile, but trust and confidence in his fellow men, as well! No great explorer, scientist, preacher, poet, teacher, inventor, writer, or anyone else who has aimed toward a definite goal, has ever reached that goal without self trust. Emerson, the famous American author, realized the vast importance of that which is mental, spiritual and physical, when he said—"A man should learn to detect and watch that gleam of light which flashes across his mind from within, more than the luster of the firmament of bards and sages. Yet he dismisses without notice his thought, because it is his. In every work of genius we recognize our own rejected thoughts; they come back to us with a certain alienated majesty. Else, tomorrow a stranger will say with masterly good sense precisely what we have thought and felt all the time, and we shall be forced to take with shame our own opinion from another.

"Trust thyself; every heart vibrates to that iron string."

If we follow the teachings of this famous philosopher and make self-reliance a personal characteristic, we are bound to triumph, either materially or spiritually! It is not difficult to achieve material triumph—Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller, Charles Schwab, James Pierpont Morgan—and there are many more! But we must remember that there is a spiritual triumph which is of greater importance to the individual. Because this triumph is not always visible we are inclined to regard it as unimportant. Frequently the mere struggle of selecting some definite goal and attempting to reach it, produces a growth of character in an individual which is a decided triumph for him. And the fact that it may remain invisible to the world at large, does not lessen its value! We may call this spiritual triumph a personal satisfaction as well as a satisfaction in the eyes of God. Great deeds are not necessary—the living of a clean, honest, Christian life may bring that sense of triumph which is it's own reward.

We, of this Senior Class, have reached a definite triumph after twelve years of work and study—we have reached one of the first goals in our development and are now ready to select others toward which to strive. Let each one of us adopt this slogan. "Try, Trust and Triumph" and put it to the test. Let us remember the words of the philosopher, Emerson, the greatest advocator of the doctrine of Self-Reliance—

"Accept the place the divine providence has found for you. Great men have always done so, and confided themselves childlike to the genius of their age, betraying their perception that the absolutely trustworthy was seated at their heart, working through their hands, predominating in all their being. And we are now men, and must accept in the highest mind the same transcendent destiny; and not minors and invalids in a protected corner, not cowards fleeing before a revolution, but guides, redeemers, and benefactors, obeying the Almighty effort, and advancing on Chaos and the Dark.

Valedictory

By Helen Gable

To us who are now leaving the school days of our life and entering upon a new phase of it, comes the thought of what are the best things of this new world into which we are entering. Van Dyke has said in his poem, "The Three Best Things," that they are Work, Love, and Life. So according to his idea if we wish the best, these are the things for which we should strive.

During our High School days our instructors have tried to prepare us for our work of a later time. They have attempted to teach us how to work, how to accomplish the most, how to make the best of our opportunities and a number of other ways of gaining success in our following life.

We all dream of great deeds and high positions, away from the pettiness and humdrum of ordinary life. Yet success is not in occupying a lofty place, or doing conspicious work, it is being the best that is in you. Rattling around in too big a job is much worse than filling a small one to overflowing. Dream, aspire, by all means; but do not ruin the life you must lead by dreaming pipe-dreams of the one you would like to lead. Make the most of what you have and are. Perhaps your trivial, immediate task is your one sure way of proving your mettle. Do the thing near at hand and great things will come to your hand to be done.

Most of us fail or go astray in one fashion or another, at one time or another. But we need not become despondent at such times. We should resolve to reap the full benefit of the discovery of our weakness and our folly. These obstacles will be necessary spurs to our development. Our success will be measured not only by our achievements but by our unsure purposes and unfulfilled aspirations as well.

In our Class Prophecy many occupations have been listed as the future work of the members of this class. Some of these may be a bit fanciful and high sounding, but why should we not have a high aim and work to do our best in the little things in order to at last reach our goal?

Our school day associations with our classmates, teachers, and friends have often formed friendships which we hope will continue to be in existence throughout the days after we have bid the school and all its holds, good-bye. We trust that they will think well of us, and remember us as a class which did its level best to uphold the fine traditions and standards of Medina High School. In speaking for the class I am sure that I am correct in saying that we think the whole high school is very, very fine. Although after we leave here we may form dearer friendships, we will always hold in our hearts little remembrances of our school mates and teachers.

The third and last best thing, but of course not the least, is life. It is a paradox of life that by hoarding love and happiness we lose them, and that only by giving them away can we keep them for ourselves. The more we share, the more we possess. We, of course, find in other people weaknesses and sins, but our best means of curing these are through a wide and sympathetic understanding. We are quick to notice obstacles, grudges, and affronts. Are we equally as quick to recognize the kindly influences that speed us on our ways? The truth is we are each of us a debtor to life and as honest men we should do all we can to discharge the obligation. It is necessary that we must put something back into life for the next person, something good and fine, not bad. We all like the good sport—the one who plays fair and courteously and with every ounce of energy even when the game is going against him.

Throughout scholl our teachers have been aiding us to fit ourselves to face life, in which as Browning says in his poem, "Rabbi Ben Ezra"—"Man is the clay; life, the wheel, and God, the Potter, who shapes us according to his wishes."

We now bid you fare-well, with maybe a bit of sadness but we know that you and we are glad to have succeeded this far. So let's be happy for it is the commencement and not the ending.

Living for the Fun of It

By Alice Ecker
(Second Honor Student)

When we have become older and some one was suddenly to ask us," What was the thing about your early home life that made the deepest impression on your memory, and perhaps, your character?" What would be the result?

The answers would be of many varieties. Some might answer some event concerning their animal pets, others of family celebrations where each person did his utmost to make the other person have a good time, and in consequence, had a most enjoyable time himself. There would be numerous others, but I think the main reply would be some factor of simple life that would not be too serious.

A few generations ago the children were brought up with the strictest rule against anything which resembled "play," for their elders said, "Those who play when they're young will play when they're old." This is exactly what most of us are aiming at today, but with the provision that we get the most out of our "play."

We want to have a glorious youth to look back upon! A good many of the criminals today are boys who have been allowed to roam the streets in large cities, boys who have never learned to play and participate in the harmless pastimes of fishing, roaming the woods, and such boyish hobbies which, unknown, shape the characters of men.

Stop to think of the many useful things that have been discovered through play. When the Spaniards came to America they found the natives bouncing rubber balls, and that was the forerunner of our modern automobile tires, raincoats, insulators, hardware products, and thousands of other every day conveniences. Rubber is indispensible.

Even electricity was discovered in play. Men used to rub amber for the fun they got out of making it pick up straws. And today, what would we do if we did not have this seemingly essential factor?

Nothing beautiful ever came into life without some one first "playing" to produce it. In primitive days the people built the rudest houses, made the ugliest clothing, and fashioned their pottery just so it would hold water. Their dishes were of the crudest and most formless type. But after centuries had passed and the life of man slowed up a little, man began to "play" with pottery, to mold it into graceful lines, to shape it into symbolic forms, to decorate it. Their homes began to change from those of the barest necessity to ones of beauty, pleasing to the eye, and containing those luxuries which were not needed but added to their pleasure.

Primitive men also used their voices for strictly utilitarian purposes. They cried for help; shrieked in fear; bellowed with rage. But those were only for useful acts. When life eased a little, men began to "play" with their voices. They began to sing: love songs; folk songs; happy songs of the joys of life. They took time and trained their voices, for their own fun and entertainment, to yield the most beautiful harmony possible.

Playing is indispensible with children and getting interested in a hobby, as golf, does a lot to improve an older person's life, to fill it out and make it more complete. It's not the sport itself which may be so beneficial but the fun gotten out of it and this is the spirit which should be put into every phase of life—living for the fun of it.

The best work is always done for fun. Millet, the great French artist, had to paint signs in order to keep from starving. But this was not his best work. His best was produced when he did not have to worry about financial problems. His masterpieces, "The Angelus" and "The Gleaners," were not painted to make money but because the artist got sheer pleasure out of creating them. Even so with authors. They may become hackwriters so that they may live, but when their minds are free from worries and they have the leisure, they write something they want to write for the joy of writing it. This was the mood John Bunyan was in when he wrote his famous "Pilgrim's Progress." He said afterwards that he did not write it for his neighbors pleasure but to gratify his own soul.

But how will our industrial workers get any joy out of their work—repeating some simple motion thousands of times a day? There is no creation of joy in that. Yet if you catch the spirit of the thing, the spirit which lies within yourself and not in any outside circumstances, you will find joy in your labor. It is your work; why not make the most out of it? Make it play!

Don't stop at bringing fun into your work. Bring it into your home! When you see a family where the members all work and never have any recreation, they are not happy, they are not content, they are dissatisfied because there is something lacking, the essential element to remove the cares of existence—playing. The spirit of play is the crown of work, of home, of life itself.

There is great satisfaction in life for he who takes it always in a sporting spirit—for he who is living for the fun of it.

The Class Prophecy

By Frank Averill

Once upon a spring day dreary,
While I pondered, weak and weary,
Over many a quaint and curious problem of the day before,
Soon I nodded; Finally napping:

I found that Tony Moore and I were launched on an extensive tour. We were traveling East. In Central New York State, our attention was called to a very expensive and modernly equipped farm, owned and operated by Norman Effinger and Gerald Porter.

Our stay in New York City was especially interesting, because we found that so many of our friends were located in the great Metropolis.

The night we arrived, we immediately purchased tickets for the opera, "Tosca," for we had been informed, ahead of time, that Thelma Adams and Eldred Perrin were billed as having leading roles.

After the Opera we went to an exclusive night club where we found Irene Wirkner and Helena Weber as proprietors. Among the number of entertainers were the O'Mar Twins, Tom and Joe Englert, who gave several warm dances.

The next morning, about eleven, we visited the studio of John Abbot and Madeleine Palmer, where we found Pearl Smith and Irene Cain posing for the artists. The studio was most exquisitely decorated and, upon inquiry, we found that the work was done by Alice Ecker and Thursa Mersing.

In the afternoon we strolled down to the musical studio of Joe Gage and Harold Spahr. On the street we heard a press boy shouting "Extra! Extra! Merle Auble defeats Willie Hoppie for Billiard Championship!"

That evening we visited some lighter entertainment, the Ziegfield Follies. In the Butterfly Chorus we found Rosella Wyman as Madam Butterfly. Under her direction were Virginia Gunder, Helen Butdorff, Bea Bowman, Nora Bennett, Marcella Aylard, Lillian Kimmich, Gertrude Griesser, and Martha Stoyke.

The next morning we set sail for Europe on the Leviathan. I went down to radio a message, through Bing Lutz, Chief Radio Operator on the liner.

We had a pleasant trip and, when we were landing, Tony and I saw Helen Crofoot and Luretta Lutz, boarding the ship for America.

We went to London and looked up Irma Nichols and Jeannette Wait, whom we found were securing their degree in English Dramatics, in a private school there.

Jeannette told Tony and me a few bits of interesting news; that Miriam Snyder had moved to Scotland and had become a happy housewife; that Helen Hanshue and Elmer Frye were studying to be authors and that Mavis Wilcox was training to swim the English Channel.

We went over to Paris by boat and immediately visited the Money Exchange where, to our surprise, we found Bob Rowe, as the head man, and his chief secretary, Irene Jakab.

Bob invited us to lunch with him and, much to our enjoyment, he took us to Elizabeth Reinhart's French Pastry Shoppe. During lunch he informed us that Esther Lubin was a famous scenario writer in Paris.

After lunch we went to visit "The Modiste Shoppe" of Florence Mapes and Cecile Shook. The girls were very glad to see us and we had a very interesting talk, of bygone days.

We took a run down to Monte Carlo the next morning. We were told that Adelia Arndt had an Oriental Rug Emporium there, wtih Robert Lampson as her foreign buyer.

Robert told us to go to the renowned gambling parlors of Monte Carlo. When we reached the place, imagine our astonishment, when we found that Frank Hard, Ernie Pelton, and Frank Simmerman owned and operated the establishment.

While walking around the place we came upon Esther Eastwood, sitting at a table with two very distinguished French Counts. We finally told the boys that we must leave and Pelton told us that a transatlantic passenger plane left in an hour, for America. He said that we certainly would be safe because Walter Thomas was piloting said plane. We took off about 4 o'clock that afternoon and reached Gary, Indiana, about 4 o'clock the next morning. We slept for awhile and then went on, by motor. On the road between Gary and Chicago, we passed an Austin with the words on "Chicago or Bust" and, imagine our amusement, when we saw Mary Luella Foskett driving this miniature automobile.

We drove a little farther and we saw a traffic cop motion a Cord Cabriolet over to the side of the road. We saw that the motorcycle cop was Claude Edwards and that the driver of the Cord was Eleanor Averill. We caught this snatch of conversation as we rode by. Claude said, "You are pinched for speeding, Lady." Eleanor replied sweetly, "I'm in a hurry, Officer. You'll have to take it up with my attorneys, Woods and Buffington. I'm going to the Army and Navy Football Game."

Eleanor told us to come along so we accepted and were soon flying along when the car began to boil. We stopped at a country schoolhouse for water and, who came out to see what the trouble was, but Curly Gable, the spinster school teacher.

We then went on to Chicago to the football game. As we entered the gates we saw four student nurses also entering, Florence Bagger, Geraldine Fulton, Helen Kindig, and Elsie Treman.

We went up and spoke to the coaches who were Fred Grim and Garnard Cowling and each was equally sure that his team would win. We walked over to the press box. On the way we saw Red Cole and Aunda McCool, sitting in the Stadium, arguing happily. We went a little farther and came upon George Winters, whom we understood was following in Mr. Claggett's footsteps. Beside George was another one of our long lost class mates. Virginia Blanchard.

When we reached the Press Box we saw Jack Pate, as Chief Reporter, covering the game and Gleason Halliwell, who had turned out to be a second Will Rogers, on the same paper with Jack. The boys had for their secretaries, Helen Christian and Marguerite Dake.

Russell Kirk, who had become a famous professional ball player, was also seated in the Press Box. Russell told us that Thelma Moore was the new owner of Tarry Tavern, at Chippewa Lake.—

Suddenly there came a tapping, as of some one soundly slapping,

Slapping to break off this sonorous snore.

Class Will

By Gleason Halliwill

We the class of 1931 of the Medina High School, wish to make known to the neighboring towns, that having been crammed with knowledge during the four high school years, are now to make our last will and testament. All having been vaccinated for smallpox and most of the class being of nearly sane mind and quite in possession of our mental faculties do declare, officially and publicly, this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE 1

Having learned all that the teachers know and gained knowledge outside of school we humbly give to the faculty our surplus wisdom. To be carefully stored and used for the on-coming generation.

ARTICLE II

To the Freshmen of this school we give the task of picking up all the scraps of paper and other articles. The said paper is to be sold to pay off debts incurred during the year by the Senior Class.

ARTICLE III

To the Sophomores we leave our strict attention and respect to our superiors in the Friday Assemblies.

ARTICLE IV

To each Junior, who thinks he or she can behave as well as the Senior Class of 1931, we give the supreme privilege of keeping the Spelling Trophy in Miss Allen's home room shiny.

THE FOLLOWING ITEMS ARE PERSONAL BEQUEATHS:

Mary Luella Foskett sorrowfully gives her extra advoirdupois to Louise Ainsworth. Arlene Buffington wills her ability to use a typewriter to Russell Whitmore. Vincent Lutz gives his knowledge of radios to Lawrence Prehn. Merle Auble wills his argumentive powers in Miss Phillips civics class to any future Senior who will be able to uphold his standard. Ernest Pelton and Frank Hard bequeath their Pecular method of voting in Senior Class Meetings to any green Freshman. "Bob" Rowe bequeaths his banking power to Duane Babcock. Eldred Perrin gives his ability as an actor to Miss Cooper, to be distributed among the Junior Class for the Next Operetta. Bea Bowman's ability to play the organ is given to Dorothy Koehler. Alice Ecker willingly gives her permanent tardy excuse to Iola and Dud. Esther Lubin lovingly wills to Betty Brereton her ability to mispronounce words. Pete Woods and Posy Wyman bestow on Betty Winters their ability of vamping Freshmen. Walter Thomas bestows on his brother his ability to agree with teachers. "Rus" Kirk gives his seat in French Class to Andy Hammerschmidt, if he will be very quiet. Thursa Mersing gives to any one in need of it, her habit of securing A's. Claude Edwards wills his ability to twist the throttle of his motorcycle to Robert Heiss. Helen Christian and Irene Jakab being aids to Miss Stewart, willingly give this position to Lucille Krug. Harold Spahr's ability to sleep, instead of coming to school, is given to Harold Thompson. Florence Mapes and Cecile Shook will their ability to make dresses to the Freshmen sewing class. Frank Averill's childish tricks are willed to "Funny" Oberholtzer. "Bob" Lampson bestows upon Harold Potts his batting ability. Lillian Kimmich bestows on "Red" Long her red hair in order that she may have two shades. Helen Hanshue gives her poetic ability to Lee Huston. "Freddie" Grimm and "Red" Cole kindly give to Merle Auker and Willard Cowling their ability to smash the line. Madeline Palmer bequeaths her art ability to Susan McMillan. George Winters kindly bestows all of his manly traits to Bill Hammerschmidt. Miriam Snyder leaves her seat in Senior Room 229 to her Scottich Boy Friend "Gus" Maitland. Jack Pate wills his athletic abilities to "Stubby" Rickard. John Abbott bequeaths a few inches of his height to George Miller to enable him to sit in the large seats and see the teachers. Frank Simmerman's ability to argue with Losia Stewart to Evelyn Oberholtzer. "Tony" Moore's yellow tie and "Cookie" Cowling's yellow shirt are willed to John Navratil to be worn before a football game. Gertrude Griesser gives her vanity case to Margaret Batchelder. Thelma Moore, believing that she will need all her qualities and abilities, does not wish to part with them. Therefore she takes all with her. Norman Effinger and Gerald Porter will their agriculture knowledge to Paul Blumenstein and Bob Gable. Irene Cain and Lauretta Lutz lend to Christine Gage and Pauline Perkins their ability to make doughnuts. Thelma Adams gives to Miss Allen, Senior Home Room Teacher, her good behavior and studious nature to be showered on "Dud" Bagley. Helen Kindig bequeaths her ability to keep still to Mildred Curtis. We hastily snatch at this chance for Helen Gable and Jeannette Wait to give their Job of stringing tickets to Marcella Brainard and Edith Short. We take this opportunity of presenting to any future twins, Tom's and Joe's similarity. Marcella Aylard's ability of riding a bicycle is lovingly willed to her brother, to enable him to make the riding of smaller velocipides safer. At this time we most graciously give to future orators, debators, and other public speakers, Nora Bennetts talent to make speeches. Virginia Blanchard gives to Mr. Thomas her musical ability to distribute among the band members. Helen Crofoot and Marguerite Dake leave to anyone in great need of it their good behavior. Elizabeth Reinhart, Adelia Arndt and Helen Butdorff solemnly bequeath their modesty to the boisterous Freshmen. Elmer Frye's popularity with the girls is willed to Larry Newberry, so that the latter may get more dates. Virginia Gunder's ability of basketball is left to "Pete" Koppes. Aunda McCool bestows on Helen Rollins her hobby of writing short stories. Irene Wirkner and Helena Weber give to any person who thinks they can use it for a good cause their ability to agree with each other. Eleanor Averill who finds among her souvenirs one good basketball suit kindly leaves the same for Sue Anderson to wear At Basketball games only. Esther Eastwood and Pearl Smith being postgraduates give to any person wishing to become more highly educated, the honor of returning to Medina High to carry out this purpose. Elsie Treman and Mavis Wilcox will to two Juniors the great privilege of helping to keep the spelling average above 99 percent. Irma Nichols wills her Physics knowledge to Phoebe Cross. Martha Stoyke bestows on "Pete" Rogers one used History book. Helen Favri and Geraldine Fulton give to any Sophomore the honor of behaving in classes as well as they. Gleason Halliwill wills that he will not willingly again write a will but in order not to discourage future will writers, he proclaims that it will afford great amusement.

Class Song

By Irene Jakab and Elmer Frye

Tune: Sweet Mystery of Life
The time has come for us to leave Alma Mater,
Say goodbye to friends and teachers, one and all;
With our free and youthful ties so newly broken,
We're going forth into the harsh, cruel world;
Where each one must be a success or a failure—
Be bright and a shining star in this old world,
And never let the world or fortunes dim it,
But keep it always shining, bright and fair.

SYNOPSIS OF THE SCENE

A three-act comedy. Scene. Library in the Grant Home. Time. Late spring, May.

SYNOPSIS OF THE STORY

Cherry Adams and Ethel Grant, tired of a life of society, decided to spend their time raising cherries, much to the disgust of Ethel's Aunt Margaret. One of Joe Meadow's agents has been trying to purchase from Cherry a lot which adjoins his cannery in Bayville, on the other side of Stony Ridge. Cherry refuses to sell the lot because Joe will not pay an adequate price to the local cherry growers.

Cherry in anger, threatens to shoot the next agent Joe Meadows sends. This threat thoroughly frightens Jack Wessler and Chipley Henderson, who are disguised but who are really Mr. Meadows agents. Many complications follow. Jack Wessler, who is impersonating his brother Bob, finds himself confronted by Bob's unknown wife, Flossie—there are some tempestuous scenes between Fritz Koogel, the thrifty German, and Vinie, the good-natured colored cook, adds humor to the action, while Connie and Sammy keep up the romantic end of the story. Finally, all the tangled threats are straightened out—Jack falls in love with Cherry, whom he tried, from the beginning, to fool—Jack and Chipley are discovered—Stony Ridge is crossed—the lot is purchased, and all ends happily.

Poem

By Walter Thomas

The time has come to pass
When we are the graduating class;
Our high school days are ended,
And our lost time can't be mended.

Four years of fun and work,
And temptations were on the lurk;
But we faced them one and all,
And never once did we stall.

It's hard to look back on the days we wasted,
And how our teachers worked in vain;
But those good old times are past,
And we've moved into the outer world at last.

Let's work our way to the top,
And if the road is rough and long;
Don't get discouraged and stop,
But struggle onward, brave, and strong!

DANA LLOYD COLE

Pres. Class '32.
Pres. Hi-Y.
Senior Red Cross Life Saver.
Ass't. Scoutmaster B. S. A.
Member of: Football, Basketball, and track.

To our beloved class mate Dana Lloyd Cole whose never-failing leadership, all around athletic ability, and upright character, have rightfully made him an inspiring influence to all who knew him, we, his class of Nineteen Hundred Thirty Two, take this opportunity of paying tribute to his memory.

"Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of my better days,
None knew thee but to love thee
None named thee but to praise."

Senior B Class History

By Sue McMillan

If you had been near the High School in January of 1928 you would have been fortunate in seeing a very clever group of boys and girls descending their first stairs to fame. Thruout our Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior years, we have contributed to sports, music, and other activities. We are now looking forward to next year with some joy, with which is mingled a few tears, for it is now our last year in M. H. S. and we are rather hesitating to step from the well guarded High School life into the open world, but we are still hoping to bring fame to "Dear Old Alma Mater."

Junior A Class History

By Rae Root

Just another tale of a startled group of wondering freshmen trapsing into good old M. H. S.

Old Father Time brings us to our Junior Year. In music the tune is great! In the sport addition things have hummed; Dont think we have missed out in any pep and fun when opportunity came rapping at our door!

We began the second semester with heavy hearts over the sudden passing of our highly-esteemed president, Dana Lloyd Cole. We shall always remember his fairness in playing the game, his active participation in sports and High School activities.

Class officers are as follows of '31: Pres., Rae Root; Sec. and Treas., Dean Friesner.

Junior B Class Roll

Anderson, Weldon; Auble, Irma; Bair, Eugene; Barrow, Korena; Bennett, Harold; Brainerd, Marcella; Butdorff, Ballard; Charlton, Pauline; Edwards, Stanley; Ewing, Lloyd; Goodale, Alice; Hoff, Marcel; Kennedy, Mabel; Kirk, Kenneth; Mugrage, Ruth; Newberry, Lawrence; Perkins, Pauline; Potts, Robert; Rollins, Helen; Schmidt, Clinton; Snyder, Helen; Thompson, Harold; Whitmore, Russell.

Junior B History

By Marcella Brainerd

Most classes entered High School as "shy little Freshmen" but we seemed to escape this customary shyness. By the time we had united into a class of '32, we had determined to hold a representative place in many of the school activities. We have during our two and one half years as members of M. H. S., contributed to the High School Band, Orchestra, Debate Club and many of the Athletics.

Our last party, November 21, 1930, was the most enjoyable of all. The crowd entered into the dancing lesson with exceptional amount of "pep" and after refreshments were served, the 62 people adjourned—all happy.—Marcella Brainerd.

Class History

By Betty Brereton

Well we've grown from "shy" little Freshmen to supercilious Sophomores. Our class party last semester was a large success and to quote the old saying "a good time was had by all." We had an equally good time this year regardless of the competition the dance at the Parish Hall gave us.

The athletic enterprises were not so bad. The girls basketball team defeated the Freshmen girls 16 to 8. Unfortunately we were defeated by the Seniors 19 to 12, not so bad though. The boys we're sorry to say were defeated by the Seniors 33 to 12.

We are quite proud of the number of girls from the Sophomore class who made the Reserve team. They were seven in all. Three boys and one girl made the Squad.

The big debater, Paul Swigart left us to go to California.

Early one January morning in '30, a large group of "Freshies" ascended the steps of the High School. Nervous and bewildered, we were kept busy keeping out of the way of the "Upper Classmen." In January, this year, we became sophomores and it was a great satisfaction to realize that we were no longer the "Green-horns." A class party was held at the school house and was enjoyed by all. Our officers for this year are: President, Jack Webber; Vice President, Raymond Ewing; Secretary, Robert Smith; and Treasurer, Ruth Armstrong. We have several athletes and musicians and aur aim is to leave a recod that will be remembered by classes to come.

Early in September, 1930, fifty boys and girls became proud freshmen of Medina Hi. Our initiation was one which we shall never forget.

A class meeting was held and officers were elected as follows: President, Everett Wise; Vice-president, Billy Hartman; Secretary, Dorothy Thompson; Treasurer, Robert Smith.

No small amount of talent in athletics and music has already been discovered and more is appearing daily. We intend not only to live up to the high standards made for us by the upper classmen, but also to leave a record of our own that will not easily be surpassed.

Freshman B Class Roll

Class History

By Mary Louise Long

We were dreadfully green not so very long ago, when we discovered it necessary to ask the Seniors where "229" was. But that seems away back in the dim past and now we "Frosh" are beginning to feel inspired by that famous old M. H. S. spirit.

In our meek little class we have several of what might be considered quite promising athletes. We can also boast of several, ah musicians in both the band and orchestra.

Of course we realize we're only Freshmen, (in fact who wouldn't?) but someday we will be occupying your places, oh most haughty Seniors!

We only hope that we may be found worthy to carry on the ideal you have left for us.

High School Music Notes

By Iola Swift

Among the many High School activities music has been an outstanding feature this year.

Music, under the direction of Mr. Thomas, our music supervisor, was furnished for several community affairs. One of these was the dinner for the Community Chest Drive, at which Governor Cooper spoke, and another an address given by Rabbi Brickner.

Both the band and orchestra have played at many of the school assemblies and the band has played for almost all of the football and basketball games.

Mr. Thomas has again organized the Eighth and Ninth Grade Glee Clubs, Freshmen Chorus, and High School Chorus.

A male quartet consisting of "Tony" Moore, Joe Gage, John Abbott, and Harold Spahr also furnished music for several assemblies.

The operetta given March 27, completed a successful music season.

High School Chorus

"Bitter Sweet Anne"

An Operetta in Two Acts

Act I

SCENE—IN PAPA JULES' GARDEN

Time—Morning on a Mid-Summer Day

(Note—Beginning with the entrance of the Queen of Dreams, Bitter Sweet Anne's dream is shown. Time rolls back two hundred years to the time of King Gus, the pirate—the dream carries her on down to the present time—the pretenders proclaim themselves king and queen and even her own people turn against her. The action of the dream ends at the beginning of Act II.)

Act II

Vocational Agriculture Notes

By Myron Kennedy

The aim of vocational agriculture is to prepare the High School student for an occupation of farming and to develop in him the characteristics of a good farmer. A four years course is offered and one year of Farm Shop with a credit for each.

We have organized a chapter of Future Farmers of America this year. There are thirty members. Our President, Norman Effinger, was nominated for State Farmer.

All boys are required to have a home project of crops or livestock where he can put into practice what he learns in school.

Community work is carried on by departments, such as spraying orchards. Milk and seed corn testing and testing soil. This year while the agriculture boys are studying farm engineering, they built a new spraying machine, run by a Ford motor.

Educational trips are planned each year. This year we went to Wooster and Cleveland stock yards. Mr. Duke took an apple and a potato judging team to Columbus to judge at the Ohio State University.

Social Activities

By Lucille Arnold

High School Class Parties

Medina High School, since it is so exceptional along every other line, would be expected to have a brilliant social season, and it lived up to the highest expectations. The Seniors started the parties off by donning their garb of a decade ago and to the tune of the "Farmer in the Dell" frolicked an enjoyable evening away. Also worthy of note was the picnic which they had at an earlier date. The Juniors also reached on the social peaks when they had a successful party, the envy of the remainder of the school. The Sophomores believing themselves full fledged members of the Alma Mater's "Four Hundred" danced and played during an evening of well organized fun. Even the Freshmen following in the footsteps of the rest of the school, had a part which showed their ability to entertain and to eat. So the associations of the students are not only in the classroom but in parties which show the real spirit that continues through the years back Medina High School.

High School Picnic

The High School Picnic held at Chippewa Lake gave the Freshmen and the Sophomores the wonderful privilege of treating the upper classmen to some of the best food ever seen or mentioned in the history of picnics. When it came to the fun all participated forgetting class differences.

Junior-Senior Banquet

With soft, popular music in the background and the moving about of beautiful girls and good-looking boys in the foreground, one of the greatest events in the lives of the Juniors and Seniors, the Junior-Senior Banquet, was staged with more than ordinary success. Both the dancing and the banquet were enjoyed by all those who participated.

Faculty Spree

Last fall 'tween six and seven o'clock, the Board and Faculty
At Scanlon's gathered 'round a fire for a picnic supper spree.
And say, while writing this account, I will state it is as a fact,
'Twas worth the price of an entire show, to see a single act.
I'll bet if we would stage that show, as a regular show
Every High School boy and girl would pay a quarter a throw.
But after all I do not blame the faculty one bit;
When steeped in dignity all day, we really like to quit
Trying to hold ourselves so prim, so proper and polite,—
Just to unbend is a relief if only for a night.
And though we're pretty cross at times, as you have sometimes thought
Yet when relieved from duty's cares, we are a jolly lot.

Girl Reserves

By Helen Schwenk

Lucille Arnold ..... President
Helen Kindig ..... Vice President
Frances Rockwell ..... Secretary
Betty Brereton ..... Treasurer

The Girl Reserves opened this year with a Tea at St. Paul's Parish House. Soon afterwards the girls were recognized as members at a candle service in the church after which the Mother and Daughter Banquet was held.

The girls then were divided into three groups: Nature, under Elberta Watters; Handcraft, under Gertrude Martin, and Dramatic, under Mrs. R. L. Mansell.

The Nature group studied about birds, trees and flowers. They also went on several hikes for this purpose.

The Handcraft group made German silver bracelets, leather and string belts, batik work and tydying.

The Dramatic group gave several plays, one of which was enjoyed by the High School Assembly.

The three groups went to Cleveland and visited the Art and History Museums, Cowan Pottery, the Home in the Sky, and the Playhouse Theater, so as to understand their work more clearly.

This year's County Conference was held on April 25 at Wadsworth.

Hi-Y

By Erwin Rickard

John Abbott ..... President
Gleason Halliwell ..... Secretary-Treasurer
Lawrence Prehn ..... Chairman

This year the Junior-Senior and Freshman-Sophomore groups united under the leadership of Sidney Fenn and Howard Claggett. With a membership of 35 boys. Several times a year local men talked to the group upon interesting subjects.

Every year there are delegates chosen to attend a State Conference. Last year it was held at Youngstown, Ohio.

Delegates last year were: Gleason Halliwell, Lawrence Newberry, Erwin Rickard, Merle Auble and Fred Grimm.

Interesting trips to Akron and Cleveland have been made.

On the 19th of May each Hi-Y boy took a girl to Camp Crag where they all enjoyed a picnic supper.

Won—7 Lost—1 Tied—3

M. H. S. had a fair start of the season with ten lettermen back. They had a most successful season which could have been better only by winning the championship of the league. The lettermen back were as follows: "Red" Cole, Grimm, J. Pate, Moore, Navratil, Harley, Oberholtzer, "Dana" Cole, Carter, and Averill.

The following received letters for the season of '30: Captain "Red" Cole, Grimm, Jack Pate, Moore, Edwards, Cowling, Abbott, Bob Pate, and Maitland.

CLASS OF '31.

Q.—"Red" Cole was our smallest man on the team, but give him the ball and see what a small man can do. He has been a regular for four years. This year he was our captain.

L. T.—"Freddie" Grimm was one of our most dangerous defensive men on the team. He could take the whole side of the next line out alone, if necessary. We will sure miss him on the line next season.

F. B.—"Jack" Pate was a real pass receiver. He not only received the passes meant for him, but intercepted other passes and made touchdowns almost single handed. High point man. This was also Jack's last year.

L. H. —"Tony" Moore was a good man in interference and an excellent line plunger. He played a very consistent game all season. Another player that "Sam" will miss.

L. G.—"Claude" Edwards played his first and last year. He sure knew how to use his brawn when it came to stopping the opposing team.

L. E.—"Cookie" Cowling also played his first and last year with M. H. S. Good man for paving the way for a touchdown.

End.—"Johnnie" Abbott came out last year and became acquainted with the game and the rules. This year he made good practical use of his knowledge.

Guard—"Scoval" Averill was a good man on offense. He sure had the M. H. S. fight when we needed it. When he hit a man he knew it.

CLASS OF '32

Half—"Merle" Auker was a hard tackler and good blocker which aided him in winning his letter.

C.—"Dana" Cole. Never a game too hard for "Dana." Never a day too stormy, never a field too muddy; he was always on his toes and very accurate in his passing to the backfield. An all-round football player.

R. E.—"Funny" Oberholtzer (Captain elect for '31) was a very aggressive player. He intercepted passes that won games.

R. T.—"Miff" Harley was a hard player and could he block punts? Remember the Berea game.

R. G.—"Johnnie" Navratil was a man who knew how to use his weight and size to a very good end. Maybe the other team thought him a bit rough, but he was O. K. with us.

Half—"Gus" Maitland sure had his best and he proved his worth by carrying the M. H. S. pigskin for many gains.

CLASS OF '33

R. H.—"Jimmy" Carter, a clever runner and line plunger who always came out on top. Oh what a stiff arm that boy had, he made some of those so-called love tacklers look yellow.

Tackle—"Bob" Pate played his first year of football. Just ask him whether he likes to play or not. He sure had the fight that could win a position on the team. We are all glad that he has two more years.

Basketball Squad

Basketball 1930-31

By Clayton Oberholtzer

Basketball would have been very successful at our school the last season if the percentage table of games won and lost could have been turned upside down. As it is, we only won two games and they were lopsided scores, showing that we can put the ball through the hoop at times. We lost many games by close scores, due solely to one reason, lack of experience.

All of the regulars of Coach Masi's preceding team graduated except Jack Pate, who was to end his athletic career at Medina High School in January, but after the Norwalk game was unavailable because of a broken wrist. Then, after Sam had picked the squad we had thirteen members; three seniors, namely: Norman Effinger, who plays any position; Gleason Halliwill, forward; and Russell Kirk, forward; three senior B's who have yet part of a season to play; John Navratil, guard; Myron Kennedy, guard, and Clayton Oberholtzer, guard; three juniors: Jimmie Brown, forward; Marcel Hoff, guard, and Harold Musch, forward; four sophomores: Robert Pate, guard; Lloyd Hoff, center; Howard Higgins, guard, and Lee Houston, forward. In addition we had a lightweight squad.

Our defense looked well in some games, in others, not so good, due to the individual players inability to stay with their opponent. The main weakness of our offense was missing shots while "sitting on top" the basket. We had teamwork to get the ball there, but faltered in the main objective.

Johnny Navratil was our main defensive cog. He was all over the floor after that ball like a cat. Remember the Vermilion game? Along with him was Bob Pate, who could make long shots and play a bang-up defensive game when he wasn't using football tactics or engaging in a prize fight.

On offense, Jimmy Brown dribbled and handled the ball cleverly. He was high scorer for the season.

Lee Huston managed to get going in the Ashland tournament. He registered goals any place from the middle of the floor to right up under the basket.

Marcel Hoff maneuvered as pivot man neatly and accurately. He went great guns in the Ridgeville game. His brother, Lloyd Hoff, had a mania for taking a bite out of the ball before putting it in the hoop. This gave Marcel a decided advantage as they both played center. The Hoff boys had remarkable endurance as they ran to and from school during the season.

Clayton Oberholtzer captained the team, played guard and handled the ball from the back court to the forwards in the opponents territory.

The Medina High School baseball team this year is very snappy for the little experience they have had. Last year the baseball team lost one game out of six, and took second place in the league. This year our aim is to reach first place.

JIMMY CARTER—Class of 1933

"Jimmy"—This is Jimmy's second year. He can be relied on to stop anything that comes near third base.

LEE HUSTON—Class of 1933

"Lee"— Lee is our shortstop. He is good at picking up grounders and is a heavy hitter.

RUSSELL KIRK—Class of 1931

"Russ"—Russ holds the job on second base. He is good at picking up grounders and where a bunt is needed you can call on Russ.

DUDLEY BAGLEY—Class of 1932

"Dud"—Dud is our left handed first baseman. He sure can snag the ball on first.

EARL BUCHANAN—Class of 1932

"Buck"—Buck plays field. He sure does catch the flys.

HIGGINS—Class of 1933

"Higgins"—This is his first year. He is good at picking up grounders and plays first base.

PAUL BLUMENSTEIN—Class of 1932

"Paul"—Paul plays field and can be relied on to stop everything that comes his way.

KENNETH KIRK—Class of 1933

"Kenny"—Kenny plays second. He makes Russ step to keep his job on second.

MERLE AUKER—Class of 1932

"Erma"—Erma is our catcher. He sure does tag them out at home. He is also a good batter.

JOHN THOMAS—Class of 1932

"Jack"—Jack is our left handed pitcher. He has plenty of smoke and can be relied on in a tight shave.

EVERETT WISE—Class of 1934

"Ev"—Ev is a right hand pitcher. He has good control and quite a bit of steam.

ANGUS MAITLAND—Class of 1932

"Gus"—Gus is our powerful right hand pitcher and throws a nice curve ball which fools the most of them and we wish him further success in his baseball career. —(by Auker).

RAY GORDON—Class of 1934

"Ray"—Ray is our catcher. This is his first year at baseball but he has promises of being a good player.

MILFORD HARLEY—Class of 1932

"Mif"—Mif came out for any position of the team. He's good at stopping grounders and catches flys.

HAROLD POTTS—Class of 1932

"Harold"—Harold is good at picking up grounders and plays shortstop.

STEVE WEST—Class of 1934

"Steve"—Steve is a good fielder. This is his first year and we are going to expect a lot from him.

RAYMOND EWING—Class of 1933

"Raymond"—Raymond plays field and does a good job of it.

ROBERT LAMPSON—Class of 1931

"Bob"—This is his second year and has improved considerably since last year.

PAUL AYLARD—Class of 1933

"Paul"—Paul is a good fielder. This is his first year and he has two more years to represent the Green and White.

Varsity Track

By Lyman Koons

The track squad reported for spring training March 30, 1931. There was a good turn out of twenty men. Among these there were five lettermen back from last year who will help to a large extent to bring the "Trophy" to Medina this year. The gang came within one point of winning the League meet and the Chmapionship last year and we hope to bring it back with us this year. Everyone is working hard and there is no reason why we should not win the meet. The squad is entrusted to the care of two capable coaches, Claggett having charge of the track events and Masi, the field. Track meets have been scheduled with the following teams: York, Oberlin and Wadsworth.

The following men have been coming out and working hard for a position and their respective merits are hereby noted:

Thomas—This is "Walt's" second and last year and we all know that he will make his deeds felt. Half mile and half mile relay.

Harley—This is "Miff's" first year and he has the determination that will make him a success. Shot put and discus.

Potts—As this is "Pottseys" second year he will be a hard man to beat. Pole vault and broad jump.

Thomas—"Jack" will experience his first year at athletic endeavor. Javelin.

Cowling—Being "Cookies" last year we all hope it will out do all others in achievements. Half mile and half mile relay.

Adams—"Adams" is one of our most promising pole vaulters and he being a Freshman has plenty of time to improve. Pole vault and 100 yard dash.

Koons—"Koony" is another third year man who will be out doing his share. Pole vault and broad jump.

Oberholtzer—"Funny" was our outstanding star last year. He is out to eclipse all previous performances. 100 yard dash, 220, 440, and half mile relay.

Hoff—This is "Mossel's" third year. Our sensational dash-man will have to work hard to out do his last records. 100 yard dash, 220, and half mile relay.

Abbott—"Johnnie" is out to make his last season the best ever. He is our remarkable high jumper.

Hoff, L.—"Lloyd" is our most promising hurdler, being only a Sophomore he has a remarkable career ahead of him. 220 yard low hurdles.

Batchelder—This is "Billy's" second year. If he runs as fast as he talks, Simpson will have to watch out. Half and mile relay.

Clement—We will expect a large amount from "Earl" this being his second year he has bright hopes of future achievements. Mile and half mile relays.

Bennett—"Bengy" is out for his first season of track he will make his opponents hustle. High jump.

Prehn—This is "Prehn's" second and last year, he hopes to be in the running at the crack of the gun. Mile and half mile relays.

Foote—This being "Earl's" first season of track we all hope he makes a good showing. Mile and half mile relays.

Jones—"Ted" being only a Sophomore has lots of time to make an impression for his alma mater.

Hammerschmidt—This is "Bill's" first year at track and we all hope he puts some of his excess baggage to advantage. Javelin and shot put.

Rickard—This is "Stubby's" first year and he will throw the shot a very good distance. Shot put.

The Cruise of the Green and White

By Ann Yesensky

Thumbing through the pages of the Log Book of our study ships Sportsmanship and Fellowship, scenes of their long voyage are brought before my eyes.

We left harbor on the sixteenth of January with calm seas and no signs of danger. Peace was changed to danger when the Lancaster pirates overcame our crew by surprise and defeated us 21-18. But a "Quitter never wins and a winner never quits." (As Miss Allen says) Hard work and a complete overhauling of the two boats made further voyages a great success.

For many weeks we sailed on calm untroubled waters until we reached Bucyrus, where we almost perished in the storm of a hard fought battle. But the God of Victory was with us and we weren't brought home on our shields.

The next part of our cruise was all sunshine and dancing waves, until we reached Fremont, but we defeated their ships and sailed on till we reached Rocky River. The enemies there were no match for our staunch sailors and we rode off with a victory.

Finally we reached the sheltering harbor of Medina, where the crew will go their way to sail their own ships.

THE GUIDING SPIRIT
MISS EDITH ALLEN, Coach

Miss Allen was the true Guiding Spirit. When the channels were narrow and with the rocks of disaster looming ahead, she encouraged the crew to give their best, to go on even if the odds were against us. Her belief in us made us want to prove ourselves worthy of that belief. It was only through her effort that the voyage was a successful one.

CENTER—AVERILL—1931

Slats, our captain has kept the good ship, Sportsmanship from crashing on the rocks of defeat with her invincible spirit and alertness. She always outjumped her opponent. Eleanor has been on the team for three years and Medina surely will miss her.

FORWARD—WOODS—1931

First Mate, Pete, saw that the voyage was successful with her seeing to it that we were always ahead in the race. She was our high point scorer.

GUARD—GABLE—1931

Curly, the Second Mate, was a great help to the captain and the crew. She was always doing the right thing at the right time. Her wholehearted playing and loyalty showed the crew there was always hope of victory.

GUARD—GUNDER—1931

When the rest of the crew couldn't hold a man down they gave our Third Mate, Ginnie, the job and she surely did it. She could play forward, as well as guard.

FORWARD—ECKER—1931

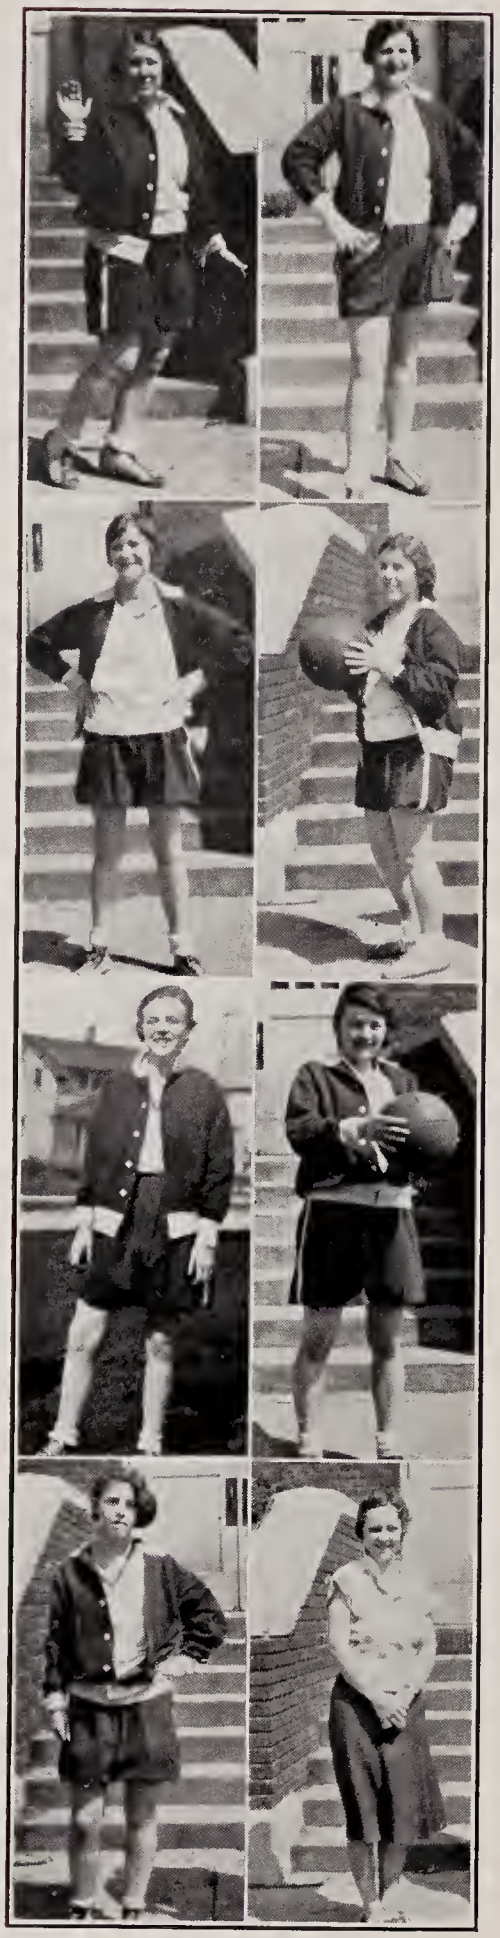
Noisy, the Boatswain, was always there when needed by the captain and the Mates. She did her part well even though she was noisy about it.

FORWARD—MERSING—1931

First Class Sailer, Thursa, was ever ready to do her part and when it came to shooting fouls you had to go some to beat her. (She specializes in being Captain. Ask her about New London.)

GUARD—BUTDORFF—1931

Buddy, our Radio Operator kept the forwards in suspense. She was quick and on the spot when needed. The Captain appreciated her Quickness in getting danger signals.



GUARD—BUFFINGTON—1931

Cook, for she could brew more trouble for herself. Three fouls in three minutes, but for all that she sure could guard when she made her mind up to do it.

GUARD—FOSKETT—1931

Mary Lou, Assistant Cook and Bottle Washer. Mary Luella didn't lack team work and she always prevented her forward from making baskets.

FORWARD—McMILLAN—1932

Mac, First Class Sailer, could help keep the craft from running into rugged waters. Sue worked with only one thought in mind, "Play fair and clean."

FORWARD—ROOT—1932

When Rae, the quartermaster was on duty on the quarter deck, the boat was in no danger of collision for she had sharp eyes and quick knowledge of approaching danger.

GUARD—ANDERSON—1932

First Class Sailor—Sue willingly did her part when the ship needed assistance. This is her first year and she has greatly improved since she first enrolled as a regular member of our crew.

CENTER GUARD—YESENSKY—1932

Ann was a very efficient skipper. She stuck to her position just like an old salt would. We could all depend on her especially in stormy weather.

(Averill and Allen)

GUARD—KOPPES—1933

Cabin Boy—Wanda the only Sophomore on the squad. If she keeps getting better every year she may launch the job of Captain someday.

SHIP-KEEPER—WAIT—MANAGER

"Jo" proved to be one of the best ship-keepers that ever sailed. When the crew was in port she would always be depended upon to faithfully watch and keep safe the hold of jewelry and jackets and first aid. When storms arose she became in reality a Ship-Mother. All kinds of weather found her ready and willing to help in any possible way. She was indeed, a rare ship-keeper, possessing unbounded qualities of virtue, patience, trustworthiness, sympathy, and love.

JOKES

By Susan Anderson and William Whitney

Earl Clement: "Bill, do you know what made the Grand Canyon?"

Bil Hammerschmidt: 'Your friend, the Scotchman, dropped a dime in a snake hole."

* * * * * *

Harold Thompson in History Class: "I think it is outrageous the way the modern house wife gads around."

Miss Phillips: "Yes , the American home must be preserved at all cost. Even if we have to hire someone to stay in it."

* * * * * *

George Winters: "Horrible tortures they used on the Orientals, weren't they?"

Perrin: "How come?"

George: "I've just been reading a book how they plastered up chinks in the walls."

OBERLIN SCHOOL OF COMMERCE

The Oberlin School of Commerce is in the midst of another prosperous year. It differs from other business schools of Ohio in that it admits only high school graduates and only at the beginning of terms. This makes it possible to do a high grade of work and accounts for its great reputation in sending out graduates trained for the better positions, many of whom are drawing salaries of $5,000 to $10,000 a year, while several are millionaires.

It offers a two year Business Administration course, a two-year Executive Course, Stenographic and other shorter courses. It is one of the seven business schools of Ohio, accredited by the State Department of Public Instruction. The courses and instruction offered are of college grade.

Any seniors interested in advanced courses of business training would have unusual opportunities at Oberlin, where they would study with others of their own age and education and would not be held back with those who have had little or no high school training. Graduates of this school frequently work their way through college with their business and secretarial training.
